Summary of Dr Livingstone's Dispatches

New York August 17 —The London News of this morning publishes a summary of interesting dispatches received by the Foreign Office from Dr Livingstone These papers cover the period of time from November 14th 1871 down to February 20th 1872 They are a very full and thrilling account of the horrors of the slave trade in Central Africa and they also supply minute explanations of previous statements which Dr Livingstone was subjected by the dishonesty of the agents employed to convey supplies to him at Zanzibar Of course they furnish some accounts of the progress of the work of discovery although perhaps the latter are hardly so full as might have been expected Not the least interesting part of the dispatches are passages which tell of his meeting with Mr Stanley Of course we are already in possession of these facts from Stanley's own description but the account given by Dr Livingstone will be read with undoubted interest when it will be contrasted with that of Stanley The meeting and kindness which was manifested make my whole frame says Dr Livingstone thrill with excitement and gratitude Many expressions and incidents of these dispatches are identical with the phraseology used in parts of letters to Mr Bennett There is also in the letters to the Foreign Office the same evidence of the same cheery spirit brightened up into almost boyish exhilaration by the unexpected meeting of one of the explorers of one of his own race under such strange circumstances and after so long an isolation as in the letter to the Herald which contained many outbursts of newfound exuberant buoyancy which in the minds of some readers cast a doubt upon their authenticity There are abundant evidences of the same elastic temperament in the dispatches received at the Foreign Office

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

There is a division of opinion in the Committee of One Hundred on the subject of the compromise agreed upon by the committee on municipal legislation and Governor Stanford in behalf of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, and favorably reported on by a majority of the committee to the Committee of One Hundred yesterday The terms are substantially that the Central Pacific will abandon definitely the proposition to secure Goat Island and proceed to build the Ravenswood bridge, and construct a road along the water front to Mission Bay by which to bring in the Southern Pacific Central Pacific and San Joaquin Valley Railroads and as soon as authorized by law run a track to North Beach and deliver goods without extra charge along the line of it The city in turn to give a subsidy of $2 500,000 in six per cent bonds, and consent to a modification of the surveys on Mission Bay The majority report which recommends the compromise, is signed by Alfred Wheeler, F W Waterman and Tyler Curtis The minority report which states that the concessions proposed to be made by the city are out of proportion to the benefits to be derived is signed by J C Merrill The prospect is strong that the compromise will be ratified at the meeting on Wednesday next

POLITICAL NOTES

The Republicans carried Lexington, Ky., at the election of August 5th, by 819 majority

Does the Herald still think that the German voters of San Francisco are "solid" for Greeley? The great meeting of San Francisco Germans last Friday, tells a different story.

Democracy in Illinois are becoming disgusted with their bargain and sale arrang ment, and are cutting loose from the Liberals, and in several counties are nominating a straight-cut ticket

At Morristown, N J, a few days since, 180 Democrats came forward and joined the Central Grant Club They expect to be joined by numerous others who can't stand "Old Horace"

A correspondent of the Republican Courier says that in one of the Missouri Congressional districts, one hundred Democratic voters in each county on an average, have declared for Grant against Greeley

The following is an announcement of a political speech by Dan Voorhees "The Tall Sycamore of the Wabash will give a specimen of how orators are eaten this evening at the Democratic Mead in the Court House yard"

Ex Congressman Benjamin G Harris, of Maryland, openly and emphatically repudiates Greeley, and publishes a vigorous letter advising his fellow Democrats to attend Blanton Duncan's straight cut Convention at Louisville

The Kennebec (Maine) Journal says General Banks has enlisted in another Red River campaign The editor, however, adds that "fortunately his defeat this time will not cost the lives of so many brave New England boys as his former one"

Says the Philadelphia Press Pennsylvania Republicans cling to Grant irrespective of all the factions Her devotion to him is one thing like her devotion to Jackson More solid Democrats prefer Grant to Greeley in this State, we believe, than in any other The reason is obvious He is the only modern President who has had the courage to put a good strong word into his annual message in favor of the protection of American labor He is the only modern President who has not been captured by the absurd fallacies of free trade

Judge Settle.

Because this gentleman had been President of the Philadelphia Convention, a prodigious effort was made to defeat him for Congress in his district, and all the arts of misrepresentation were applied without stint We quote from a correspondence of the New York Times

Judge Settle is defeated by 1,442 majority Last fall's majority two years ago was about 1,300 If Randolph and Orange counties had cast their usual Republican maj

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 19, 1872.

Anxious to Know.

In a recent article we observed that it would be the duty of our Legislature at its coming session to annul the profligate acts of two years ago, and, as far as possible, to cut up their consequences by the roots. The Governor's organ at Salem, the Mercury, would like to have us "enumerate the several parts of this profligate legislation," so that it may be able to see what we think the Assembly ought to do. And particularly, it wants to know whether we "would have the work on the canal and locks at the Falls of the Wallamet defeated or even embarrassed by the next Legislature."

What can the Legislature do to "defeat or embarrass" this work? The Company have contracted with the State for the construction of the canal and locks on plans distinctly specified, and for a consideration expressly stated. The Assembly at the coming session have nothing to do but let the Company fulfill their contract, and to see that they do fulfill it. It will be the duty of that body to appoint a committee to inquire into the progress of the work and the manner of construction; and some think it would not be amiss to let the inquiry run back far enough to investigate the means and influences used to secure the passage of the bill. The Mercury's tone seems to indicate that more assistance will be needed from the State, and that if the demand therefor be not responded to, the Assembly will be charged with attempting to "defeat" the enterprise. Under no circumstances should more assistance be given to this company. The State should own the canal and locks; and in case this company do not complete them, it should devise a plan for their completion, under State ownership and control.

Conspicuous among the prodigate acts of the last session was the contrivance to enable a few speculators to get control of vast areas of land at less than their value. Some of these lands are of swampy character and others not properly so; though all of them have been so d--- d by the land-grabbers. This act should either be repealed, or so amended as to rid it of the abuses to which it is liable. Under it, all the best lands in the State are being absorbed by speculators, who obtain them without competition and often at prices far below their value; while the State is required to wait ten years for the meager amount of purchase money. Meanwhile the speculators will have opportunity to sell a fraction of the lands for enough to pay for the whole, and have all the balance left for clear profit.

Again, the litigant act, without which the Governor's organ and a number of other papers which the public is forced to support would now have no existence, should go overboard. So also should the act which takes out of the hands of the people of this city the control of their own municipal government. The Mercury intimates that we will be "satisfied" on this last point "when the people of this city are again placed at the mercy of a mob." Now the people of Portland never were in any --- at the mercy of a mob; and the cry to that effect, which was raised two years ago to justify the appointment of a Democratic police in a city which has steadily repudiated the Democratic party, was simply clap-trap which it can do no one any good to repeat now. The people of Portland do not look on the present police force, or the Board who direct it, as the embodiment of all the moral virtues in the community.

The Louisville Convention.

Our dispatches contain the announcement from Blanton Duncan, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, to the effect that the Democrats of thirty-one States have already taken steps to participate in the Convention to be held at Louisville next month. Prominent men all over the country are declaring their purpose to act with it. Conventions are being held everywhere to elect delegates to attend. It must be admitted that this movement is taking larger proportions than could have been expected. The fact is, the Greeley party were at the flood-tide of their prosperity a month ago, and ever since its strength has been ebbing away. Greeley cannot get the Democratic vote of the country. That much is demonstrated. If no other candidate were nominated, still he could not do it. But with the nomination of another candidate distinctively Democratic, the chances for anything like a solid Democratic vote for Greeley become simply impossible.

A large Convention will meet at Louisville. It is said that Charles O'Conor will be nominated for President. He is a man of ability and integrity, and his candidacy would command respect. It is not at all improbable that such a candidate would receive a very large part of the Democratic vote of the country.

This movement may play strange pranks with the Greeley crowd. It is well understood that Greeley was nominated to catch the colored vote. He can't get it. Now let him lose a large proportion of the Democratic vote, and where is he? Strange things occur, and it may be that the ticket which represents the bargain between the Conventions at Cincinnati and Baltimore, though brought out with so great a flourish of trumpets, may not get a single electoral vote. Look at the situation. With a straight Democratic ticket in the field, backed energetically in all parts of the Union, what State could the Baltimore candidates count on? Even Kentucky would probably be lost to them, and its electoral vote would go to the candidates of the Louisville Convention. Many unusual and unexpected things have taken place since this campaign began, and it seems probable that we have not yet seen the last of them.

It appears from the telegraphic dispatches which we print to-day that the Republican majority in North Carolina is nearly three thousand, as far as heard from. Papers like the Oregon Herald boast that their party has elected a majority of the Congressmen and obtained a majority in the Legislature. Both these results have been brought about by outrageous gerrymandering of Congressional and Legislative districts. This was done by the last Legislature, which was a Democratic body. So that, although the Republicans have a good majority in the State and are fairly entitled to a majority of Congressmen and Legislature, the will of the people is set aside by unscrupulous manipulations of the pious "Reform" party.

The Eugene Guard publishes conspicuously the call for the Louisville Convention. Several Democratic papers in this State will regret before they are a month older that they didn't wait for the straight Democratic nomination at Louisville, before declaring themselves. If a good nomination be made by the Louisville Convention it is not hazardous to predict that it will carry a majority of the Democratic vote of Oregon in November. Ninety per cent. of the Democrats of Oregon would prefer an attack of cholera morbus to being compelled to vote for Greeley.

The United States soldier is to have a new uniform. A general order has been issued by the War Department adopting the changes in the army uniform recommended by the Board which lately sat in New York. These changes have been made with the several purposes of increasing the comfort of the wearer, making the dress more serviceable and greatly adding to the appearance of the soldiery, all of which have long been needed.

OREGON.

Crops in Yamhill county are turning out a good yield.

Butter is scarcely to be had at any price in Salem, at times of late.

Yamhill county claims to have but one representative in the penitentiary.

Baker City, says a correspondent, continues to improve in building, etc., and trade is looking up.

The two Sabbath schools at Hillsboro are in fine working condition and seem to be largely attended.

Business is somewhat reviving through the valley towns, as the farmers come in to purchase harvest supplies and to dispose of their summer's products.

John Meyer was drowned while bathing in Butte Creek, Jackson county, on Saturday, the 10th inst. He was alone and was supposed to have been seized with cramps.

The Court House in Hillsboro is finished to the top of the second tier of windows and is going to present a neat appearance when finished and be an ornament to the country.

The Eugene Journal says the only colored citizen of Lane county is a member of the Grant and Wilson club. He was formerly a Democrat, and voted for Whiteaker at the last election.

John McCulligan, who is supposed to be somewhere in Oregon, is requested to report himself dead or alive either to the Jacksonville Postmaster or to Thomas Scovell, Lockport, New York.

The Republican says: "Wm. Bragg, who resides a short distance from town has reached the age of 101 years. The old gentleman is healthy and active and can work yet. He came to Oregon in 1844, and has resided here ever since.

Peter Archambeau, an old citizen and well-to-do miner, was killed while mining in his claim in Rye Valley, Baker county, on the 10th inst., by a bank caving upon him. His body was taken out and carried to Baker city for interment.

In the last number of the Reporter appear the valedictory of Mr. Handley and the salutatory of Mr. Snyder. The latter gentleman promises to give his patrons a "good county paper," and we believe he will do so. We wish the Reporter success.

The Farmer says: It seems that the general report from prairie farmers is that the fruit has been cut off by the late frosts, which even killed many of the trees. It is probable that enough for home supply will be furnished us, but not much of a surplus. Apples will be apt to bear a fair price all the season.

When we call an item from the Farmer hereafter, or repeat an opinion which it has expressed in regard to agricultural matters in our State we want it understood that we do not vouch for its correctness, as that paper has "gone back on us" in two instances in which we clipped a news item from its columns.

The Jacksonville Times has the following: "Indians belonging at Camp Harney have been raiding on settlers on Crooked river, stealing horses and butchering cattle. A party of soldiers followed them from Camp Harney, and after a jaunt of fifteen days, overhauled them near Camp Warner, 200 miles distant. Eight valuable mares were recovered. The Indians are in irons.

A large number of persons in different parts of the State have been chosen by the Spiritualists at a committee to take all necessary steps preparatory to a location and incorporation of the proposed Liberal College, and that they receive all bids, propositions and donations connected therewith, and report the result of their labor to the next Grove meeting at Woodburn, on the 12th of September, 1872.

At the meeting of the State Teacher's Institute, held at Eugene City, last week, the subject of education was thoroughly discussed, and various resolutions were passed for the consideration of the members of the Legislature at the next session. They recommended that there be created the office of State Superintendent of Public Schools, and resolved in favor of various modifications in the school law.

Our Hillsboro correspondent says: "The funeral obsequies of Wm. M. Brown, of Hillsboro, was largely attended on Sunday. Mr. Brown was an old citizen of Oregon and has been noted for his gentle disposition and universal well wishes to his fellow-men. He leaves a large family. Quite a number of citizens of Portland came out to attend the funeral services of their esteemed friend and former fellow citizen. It is pleasant to think that we may so live that when we come to die we still live in the memory of our friends and associates."

A gentleman at Hillsboro writes: "Our sister town of Cornelius presents quite a novel and neat appearance with its neat cottage buildings. The continued and steady improvements of all the towns in Washington county is a source of gratification to the entire county, and with the exception of a few persons who are bent on trying to create a feeling between these places, peace and harmony exists throughout the entire county. All good citizens should frown down these efforts made by 'smart Alecks,' wherever they may be found. Reports have been circulated by busy bodies of existing feuds between Forest Grove, Cornelius and Hillsboro, greatly to the damage of these three places and to the county at large. After carefully investigating these reports, it is found that no such feeling exists; that the inhabitants of each town are on good and friendly terms with each other and treat each other with all respect, while at the same time the citizens claim to have spunk enough to raise their voice against any oppression, let it come from whatever source it may. It is sincerely hoped that this will be the last time that this matter will have to be spoken of, and that the good feelings which now exist throughout the county will be maintained at all hazards to the end that our county may be filled with industrious and law abiding citizens and her vast resources and wealth more fully developed."

That Comet and its Doings.—The New York Commercial Advertiser of August 3d spoke in this wise of the great comet that was to visit us August 12th, and what it was going to do:

Merely as a matter of wise precaution, it is advisable for the people of this city and the adjacent places to remember that the world has but nine more days to live. The comet which is to strike the earth—punctually at 11 o'clock A. M. in this latitude, and sharp at 4 o'clock P. M. in Europe on the 12th of August—is speeding its way through space to do its work of annihilation. On the 12th of August, so says the Swiss professor, this fair round globe is to be suddenly and fearfully enshrouded in the poisonous gases of its fiery destroyer. First, we shall find ourselves wrapped in a dim comet and smoky cloud, the outlying vapor of the comet; next, the atmosphere will become hot and stifling, and then the mercury will jump clear out of the top of the thermometer, dissolve into space and destroy the only method of measuring increasing temperature; and then the liberated fires of the earth will burst forth to meet the incandescent nucleus of the terrible comet, and one great shake and wail will rend the earth and split the throats of the gasping thousand millions of human beings. It is not a pleasant prospect; but as science never errs, and the laws of nature cannot be at fault, we suppose we must prepare for the work. It is useless to think of setting our houses in order, for none will be left to tell the tale of the great catastrophe; nor is it expedient to lay in stores of ascension robes, for there will be no time to put them on, but it is manifestly the part of wisdom to make friends of all our enemies, to apologize for all the evil deeds we have done, and to get ourselves generally into that beatific condition of peace and good will toward all men which will fit the disencumbered spirits of the just to fly away to the happy regions where there will be nothing of a material nature for stray comets to impinge upon, and where trade and enterprise can never have a foothold. Let us have peace.

THE TERRITORIES.

Boise city is without a public school.

The Puget Sound Dispatch will shortly appear as a daily. That Sound country beats the world for newspapers—as to numbers.

Irreverent young men practice horse racing at Vancouver on Sunday, to the annoyance of the more religious part of the community.

Whatcom county, W. T., is settling up rapidly. A town has been laid out at Semiahmoo Bay, and persons who agree to build are given lots.

The Olympia Tribune says that the United States coast survey, under the command of Capt. Lawson, is now at Murden's Cove, on Bainbridge Island.

The managers of the Clark county Agricultural Society, have determined to hold the fifth annual fair of the society at Vancouver on the 12th, 13th and 14th of October.

The Idaho game law having ceased on July 31st, many of the Boise people have departed for the sage-brush and timber. Game is said to be very abundant.

Geo. Q. Cannon, elected on the 5th inst., Dole gate to Congress from Utah, is the editor of the "Deseret News," and is also an Elder of the Mormon Church. He is a polygamist of the most radical type.

A General Court-Martial assembles at Fort Lapwai next week for the trial of military prisoners, Major Mason, of Vancouver, is President of the Court, and left for Lapwai on Monday, accompanied by Lieutenant Rheem, who is also a member of the Court.

The Avalanche says: From all the information we can gather from the farmers of Idaho, grain will be a full average crop. Considering the hot weather and the scarcity of help, farmers are getting their work along very well. In some instances threshing has already commenced. Hay will also be a fair crop.

The Vancouver Register of the 17th says: Mrs. Doane, another victim of the small pox, died at Union Ridge this week. This makes the fourth death out of eight cases in that neighborhood, a fearful percentage of mortality. Owing to the strict precautionary measures taken, the disease has not spread beyond the immediate neighborhood, where it was first contracted.

CITY.

SUICIDES —Portland at present seems to enjoy a suicidal mania All that is required to get up a first class case of suicide is for a female to think that the object of her affection dotes more fondly on some one else than herself or for a man to be crossed several times in pecuniary or love affairs To those persons who seriously contemplate suicide drowning is most decidedly preferable Unless assistance comes speedily, after one commits himself or herself to the mercies of the water, death is certain to follow, without the person can swim and repents the rash act after sniffing the lungs full of water Poisons may be more fatal under certain circumstances, when properly administered but as a general rule are not so reliable as a means of seeking temporary oblivion, as the aqueous element By the use of poisonous drugs there are always chances against the success of the scheme. In the first place the poison may be of an inferior quality, second, it may be administered either in too limited or large doses to work fatal results, third, some friend generally discovers the attempt either in the overt act or immediately after, a physician is summoned hastily, and that most accommodating "stomach pump" comes in time to save the victim Cutting the jugular vein, severing the windpipe or blowing out one's brains, is to be rejected on the ground that it sometimes fails through the keenness of the knife's edge or want of good aim, and when attended with success the features are frequently so mutilated that lamenting friends are sometimes at a loss to clearly identify the victim By all odds, drowning is the most decent and Christian like manner in which to "shuffle off this mortal coil" when one possesses the moral courage to try the rub," and has deliberately chosen to seek physical annihilation To this end, it has been suggested by a person who is naturally inclined to take a plain, practical view of the subject and view is more dreadful and repulsive features in the light of stoical philosophy, that if people are determined to commit suicide, accommodations should be provided which would greatly facilitate the labor and place success beyond the shadow of a failure As a bridge, in all probability is to be constructed across the river at this city, little "slips" could be built along at intervals, extending from the road way down to near the water, and ending with an elastic spring board. At each one of these "slips" a policeman should be stationed The duties of these officers should be to extend all the courtesies possible to candidates for suicide. They should receive any presents the victim might wish to leave to mourning friends, take their last will and testament, and above all the names, ages and description of the candidates person This would save much trouble when the inquest is held to ascertain he name and identify the body If such accommodations are furnished there would be no trouble in the work of self destruction, and no possibility of failure Such an arrangement would have more effect towards restraining the prevalence of the crime of self-murder than all the lessons on morality which could be preached The prevalence of this crime was such at one time in the history of the French Empire that the great Napoleon adopted a plan similar to the one above mentioned, and found that suicides decreased afterwards in a material ratio. For years past self murder has been on the increase in the United States, and even the State has contracted the dreadful moral contagion, and it seems that any mode which would assist in eradicating such fatal tendencies of the mind should be encouraged. In this instance the ends desired will certainly justify the means employed

ACCIDENT—DROWNED —A correspondent at Oregon City sends the following particulars concerning an accident which befel a young lady at that place, and also the drowning of a young man

Saturday morning, Clara Albright, a lovely young girl, daughter of one of our respected citizens, while coming from a neighbor's to her father's house, fell down a wall 45 feet deep. Fortunately the water was sufficiently deep to break her fall, and her descent was so direct that she did not touch the sides sufficiently severe to injure her to any extent. Although knocked and stunned by the fall, she retained her presence of mind, and quietly waited and kept her head above water until a bucket was lowered, when securing a firm hold she gave the word to 'hoist,' and much to the delight of her parents and friends was landed safe terra firma once more

As the ferryman who plies the oar between the ... and Lock Co.'s Works and the city, was ... his calling Saturday morning about 11 o'clock, he saw the body of a man suddenly rise from the "watty deep" and the head bobbing up close alongside his wherry. He fastened a line to of his scows, and hauled the body ashore to the ferry landing, and im— mediately gave information to the proper authorities. An inquest was ... over the remains by Dr. Barclay.

By two sailors named Campbell and Kearney, it was ascertained that the deceased was one ... Greaves, a native of Blythe, Northumberland, England He shipped at Newport Wales, on the bark Sparkling Dew, and ran away from his ship at Portland, and has been working at the Locks ever since Last Saturday, the 10th, he was paid off, and sailor-like got on a spree ... the evidence it was shown that on Tuesday night, 13th inst, he, Campbell and Kearney, the ... were all under the influence of liquor, and left Burns's saloon for the ferry landing to go over to the mess-house at the works where they boarded and loafed. After hallooing considerable time for the ferryman, and finding it unavailing, Campbell and Kearney say they returned to ... saloon, thinking Greaves was following them, but being a light they did not miss him for some time. Not seeing him next day, they supposed he had gone to Portland, as they had all talked of going there and shipping on the Spanish bark Manuela I. would seem, however, that the poor fellow must have made an effort to cross and was drowned in the attempt. He was a quiet man when sober, age about 25 years, when found had his watch and 80 75 in his pockets, but no letters or papers of anykind. Verdict, accidental drowning.

BARCLAY VS. GOODALE —The case of James Barclay vs Captain G A Goodale in the United ... Circuit Court has resulted in a verdict of one dollar damages in favor of the plaintiff, substantially vindicating Captain Goodale The action was brought for damages for an alleged illegal arrest and confinement at Fort Klamath for ... nine days. The defendant admitted the ... and confinement for thirteen days, and alleged that he turned over the post and prisoner to ... Jackson, a superior officer, after thirteen days, and justified the arrest and confinement upon the ground that the plaintiff had introduced liquor into an Indian country near his post. The plaintiff's counsel contended that the place where the plaintiff had his liquor was not an Indian country, nor did he attempt to introduce liquor into an Ind an country, and that if the facts were otherwise he Captain had no right to detain the prisoner more than five days under the laws of the United States, but that it was his duty to turn the prisoner over to the United States Marshal within that time The defendant's counsel contended that the law was directory and subordinate to the general interests of the service, and ... that ten days notice after five days upon the ground that the Marshal was at Portland and had ... at that time nearer, and that there was no other commissioned officer at the post, that he was prohibited by the articles of war from leaving, and that the number and condition of the command did not permit the sending of a squad with a non commissioned officer, and that this condition was brought on and aggravated by the introduction of liquor into the post and among the Indians by the plaintiff The Court charged the jury, substantially, that an Indian country in Oregon could only be inside of the limits of an Indian reservation, and that such reservation might be both a military reserve and Indian reservation at the same time, and that the law of Congress did not permit an officer to confine a ... longer more than five days without starting with him to deliver him up to the civil authorities for trial, and that the law was peremptory and not directory. The prisoner must be moved or ... discharged within that time After a short absence the jury returned a verdict of one dollar for the plaintiff The verdict must have been upon the ground that under the laws, the eight days detention was illegal, but that the arrest was justifiable and that there was no malice on the part of Captain Goodale in any of his proceedings

THIEVES —The residence of Mr Hinman, near Forest Grove was entered on Saturday night and a small sum of money stolen On the evening in question, Mr Hinman returned home and retired to bed early being wearied with the labors of the day He did not take the precaution to look or secure the door He slept very soundly and was not disturbed during the night The following morning he arose and looked for his ... which had been carelessly deposited on a chair near his bedside, but he looked in vain, they were missing and could not be found After a thorough search in the house, he examined the yard and found the pants lying about twenty feet from the door. On examining the pockets, he discovered his purse was missing. The purse contained about $15 in coin Nothing else about the premises was missed No possible clue as to the thief By way of caution it might be well to add that persons in the country should take the precaution to keep doors and windows well bolted during the night, especially now that the impression exists that farmers are careless in this respect Such an impression would have a tendency to produce an exodus of our house fellows about town"

SUICIDE FOILED —A few days ago a drug store clerk in this city played a sort of serious practical joke on a rampant candidate for self destruction Unrequited love—that hideous monster, next in ferocity to green eyed jealousy —was the cause of it The candidate instead of leaping into the peaceful Wallamet and drowning himself like any purblind pup might have done went straight to a drug store and called for some strychnine The clerk "smelt a mice," and sold him some harmless chalk powder in place of the article. The sequel can be imagined The fellow went home, took the drug—as he supposed—and of course became deathly sick ran to his neighbors, confessed what he had done, and begged for a doctor One was sent for S Q Lapius came and saw—not a dead man, but a live one The stomach pump was brought into requisition, but it was useless Esculapius finds the poison and exposes the rascally fraud played by the clerk The candidate grows furious that he has been robbed of the results of his efforts, and swears that after this he will take water straight in his, and never put his trust again in drug store clerks.

FOR PORTLAND —The steamer Ajax, which sailed on Saturday from San Francisco for this port brings the following passengers Gen G P Ihrie, U S A Miss M J Ross, Miss M Byers C B Heald, Mrs C Marshall, E Gunn, J P Walker, C E Clark, L L Roberts, A M Whytlaw Otto Shatby, Wm Buddy, Mrs J S Walker, Mrs A Q Johnson, H Rosenfield, John Sandy, C B Nichols, Mrs J Hoffiein, Chris Aukers, A Petzoldt Capt A G Evans U S A, Mrs M A Allen, Gen Baum Miss Boas, W G Smythe, A H Simmons, W H Sutherland, J H Sutherland, wife and daughter, W F Caldwell and wife, Geo Bother, B Natrop, Mrs C R Hogue, A Schlussel, Jos Anderson, L Bolton wick, Mrs A E Foster and 2 children, J H Lapy wife and child, A R McCullum and wife

CLUB MEETING —The Sportsmen's Club held an adjourned meeting at the Police Court room last evening, A B. Hallock Esq, President, in the Chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting read and approved

A notice of amendment to the by laws was given, in regard to the initiation fee

On motion a committee was appointed to draft a game law, to report at the next meeting of the Club The following gentlemen were appointed viz Messrs Ball, Bingham and Norden

The Club then adjourned until next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock

THE "SOCIAL EVIL"—By the bark Edward James there arrived fifteen Chinese women These women, as we understand, are not wives, but come hither to pay a disreputable avocation as prostitutes There are at present a number of these shameless and degraded courtesans in Portland, and a fresh invoice is not calculated to elevate the standard of decency or morality

TO PROGRESS —Now that the material has arrived at Cape Foulweather, for the new lighthouse in process of construction, work will be resumed at once. The intention is to complete as much of the building as possible before the rainy set in, and to resume work next spring with renewed vigor. It is hoped to have the lighthouse completed before next summer.

THE SHUBRICK —The lighthouse tender, the Shubrick, arrived at this port on Saturday afternoon, and is now anchored out in the stream opposite Flander's wharf, She brought the lighthouse material from San Francisco to Cape Foulweather, and will soon depart down the river for a cruise of inspection along the northern coast

PARTY OF HUNTERS —A party of four—three of whom are "pilots"—start this morning for the Cascades. The party will probably be absent about a week, and spend the time in hunting in the adjacent mountains and fishing in the countless streams They go fully equipped to make the denizens of forest, air and water suffer.

COURTESIES.—We learn that the Turn Verein Society of Salem have received an invitation to visit the Portland Turn Vereins on next Saturday. Quite a number have signified their intention of accepting the invitation, and negotiations are now pending to secure a reduction of fare on the railroad for members of the society.

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamer California sailed Saturday evening at 7 o'clock with the following passengers for Victoria and way ports . H A Webster, Mrs J S Johnstone, Abel Eudy, wife and child, Amos Currier, Mrs Robert Pittock, Capt J D Miller, wife and daughter, George Currier, Octavia Marcier.

THE FIREMEN.—The invitation extended to Willamette Engine Co. No 1 by the Albany Fire Department has been accepted, and the members of that company, accompanied by delegation from several other companies of the city and the Chief Engineer, will pay Albany a visit on the 7th of next month.

BRIDGE MEETING —An enthusiastic meeting was held in East Portland on Friday evening by the citizens of that place in regard to the proposed bridge The meeting was numerously attended and much interest was manifested in the success of the enterprise Considerable stock was subscribed.

"PATHFINDER"—This little craft is lying at Moffet & Stephens wharf, being rigged This portion of the work will be complete in about ten days, and she will be ready to sail by that time if her cargo is finished. She is now on berth for Honolulu, and ready to receive freight at any time.

FINE MELONS —At the store of F A Bean, near the corner of Morrison and First streets, can be seen a very fine lot of watermelons. They are all large and of splendid flavor These melons were raised in the vicinity of the Dalles, and Mr Bean is in daily receipt of fresh invoices by the Cascade boat.

ENTERED.—The dwelling house of Mrs Harvey, on Park street, between Alder and Washington, was entered by thieves a few nights since, and ransacked from the basement to the attic The family are absent at the coast, so that it is impossible to determine what articles are missing if any

"MARIE WILKINS"—Work on this little craft is progressing rapidly towards completion The boiler engines and machinery are all in working trim, and the cabin enclosed and painted It is the intention to have her ready for the trial trip in about two weeks at the farthest

DIVINE SERVICES —The usual divine services were conducted at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday by Rev John R Houghton of Olympia The subject of the morning service was "Divinity of one God" in the evening "Universal Salvation

U S COURT —The U S District Court will convene this morning. The case of the persons charged with the stage robbery will be tried first A number of witnesses in the case have arrived from east of the mountains

The open air meeting held last evening at the corner of First and Stark streets under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association was largely attended and a lively interest manifested

ANOTHER CASE —Caroline Perry attempted to commit suicide on Saturday by poison but was too closely watched by the police, and gave up the attempt

A CARD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Our attention has been called to an item in the daily Herald of the 18th inst, which has a tendency to mislead the mind of the public in reference to Frank Tompkins and others charged with the robbery of the United States mail at Antelope valley. Whatever may have been the intention of the author of that item he surely misapprehends the article of the Mountaineer to which he refers The Mountaineer does not take back what it said in a former article, does not say that Frank Tompkins is a "mail robber," as the Herald does, but simply regrets that the article heretofore published in that paper had given offense to some persons in Wasco county.

Mr Tomkins and those jointly indicted with him, will be put upon their trial on this the 19th inst, and feeling confident, as we do, of the entire innocence of the defendants, we will in behalf of our clients, ask this generous public to suspend its opinion until their guilt or innocence has been passed upon by an impartial jury, in which event, we confidently expect them to be triumphantly acquitted CAPLES & MORELAND

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.—There has been a decided change in personnel of the photographic establishment of Joseph Buchtel, by the purchase of Mr E H Stolte as a partner with Mr Buchtel. Mr Carl Bosco the famous artist, continues to transfer physiognomies to plate in a manner that meets with general approval. Messrs Buchtel & Stolte have on exhibition daily at the entrance to the Gallery, Corbett's Building First street, between Washington and Alder, the finest display of work in their particular line ever produced in the State and in the East it would be difficult to find anything, to excel it The firm and those connected with it need no words of praise The work they produce has the best endorsement any gallery could have

A Triumph of Order.

A squad of regular infantry,
In the Commune's closing days,
Had captured a squad of rebels,
By the wall of Pere-la Chaise.

There were desperate men and women,
A sad dark-eyed Amazon girls,
And one little boy, with a peach-down cheek,
And yellow clustering curls.

The captain seized the little waif,
And said, "What shall then be'e?"
"Sagristi, Citizen captain!
I'm a Communist my dear!"

"Very well. Then you die with the others."
"Very well" That's my affair
But first let me take to my mother,
Who lives by the wine shop there,

My father's watch. You see it,
A gay old thing, is it not?
It would please the old lady to have it,
Then I'll come back here and be shot"

"That is the last we shall see of him,"
The grizzled captain grimmed,
As the little man skimmed down the hill,
Like a swallow down the wind.

For the joy of killing had lost its zest
In the glut of those awful days,
And death writhed, gorged like a greedy snake
From the Arch to Pere-la-Chaise.

But before the last platoon had fired,
The child's shrill voice was heard!
"Mong-ta! the old girl made such a row
I feared I should break my word"

Against the bullet pitted wall
He took his place with the rest,
A button was lost from his ragged blouse,
Which showed his soft, white breast.

"Now blaze away, my children!
With your little one—two—three"
The Chassepots tore the stout young heart
And saved society!

—August Atlantic.

BLAINE'S LETTER TO SUMNER.

This letter is so excellent that it merits fuller publication in our columns than was given in the telegraphic synopsis. We therefore give it entire:

AUGUSTA (Me.), July 31, 1871.

To the Hon. Charles Sumner, U. S. Senator:

SEVERAL PLAIN TRUTHS.

DEAR SIR: Your letter published in the papers of this morning will create profound pain and regret among your former political friends throughout New England. Your power to injure General Grant was exhausted in your remarkable speech in the Senate. Your power to injure yourself was not fully exercised until you announced an open alliance with Southern secessionists in their efforts to destroy the Republican party of the nation. I have but recently read, with much interest, the circumstantial and minute account given by you in the fourth volume of your works, of the manner in which you were struck down in the Senate chamber in 1856, for defending the rights of negroes. The Democratic party then, as now, was the South, and according to your own showing to some extent in the North also, approved that assault upon you. Mr. Toombs of Georgia openly announced his approval of it in the Senate, and Jefferson Davis, four months after its occurrence, wrote a letter to South Carolina in fulsome eulogy of Brooks for having so nearly taken your life. It is safe to say every man in the South who rejoiced over the attempt to murder you was afterwards found in

to murder the nation. It is still safer to say that every one of them who survived is to-day your fellow laborers in support of Horace Greeley. In 1856 he indeed would have been a rash prophet who predicted your fast alliance, sixteen years after with Messrs. Toombs and Davis, in their efforts to reinstate their own party in power. In the startling mutations of American politics nothing so marvelous has ever occurred as the fellowship of Robert Toombs, Jefferson Davis and Charles Sumner, in a joint effort to drive the Republican party from power, and hand over the Government to the political control of those who so recently sought to destroy it. It is of no avail for you to take refuge behind the Republican record of Horace Greeley, conceding for this sake argument, as I do not in fact believe that Horace Greeley would remain firm in his Republican principles. He would be powerless against the Congress that would come into power with him in the event of his election. We have had a recent and striking illustration in

of the inability of a President to enforce a policy, or even a measure, against the will of Congress. What more power would there be in Horace Greeley to enforce a Republican policy against a Democratic Congress than there was in Andrew Johnson to enforce a Democratic policy against a Republican Congress? and besides, Horace Greeley has already in his letter of acceptance, taken ground practically against the Republican doctrine, so often urged by yourself, of the duty of the General Government to secure the rights of every citizen to protection of life, person and property. In Mr. Greeley's letter accepting the Cincinnati nomination, he pleases every Ku Klux villain in the South by repeating the Democratic cant about local self-government, and inveighing in good rebel phrase against centralization, and finally declaring that there shall be no Federal subversion of the internal policy of the several States and municipalities, but that each shall be left free to enforce the rights and promote the well being of its inhabitants, by such means as the judgment of its own people shall prescribe. The meaning of all this in plain English is, that no matter how the colored citizens of the South may be abused, wronged and oppressed, Congress shall not interfere for their protection, but leave them to the tender mercies of local self-government administered by white rebels.

A QUESTION.

Do you, as a friend to the colored man, approve this position of Mr. Greeley? You cannot be glad, Mr. Sumner, how often during the late session of Congress you conferred with me in regard to the possibility of having your civil rights bill passed by the House. It was introduced by your personal friend, Mr. Hooper, and nothing prevented its passage by the House except the rancorous and factious hostility of the Democratic members. If I have correctly examined the Globe, the Democratic members, on seventeen different occasions, resisted the passage of the civil rights bill by a parliamentary process known as FILIBUSTERING. They would not allow it to come to a vote. Two intelligent colored members from South Carolina—Elliott and Rainey—begged of the Democratic side of the House to merely allow the civil rights bill to be voted on, and they were answered with a denial so absolute that it amounted to a scornful jeer of the rights of the colored man, and now you lend your voice and influence to the re-election of those Democratic members who are coupling with you in the support of Mr. Greeley. Do you not know, Mr. Sumner, and will you not admit, and as a candid man, acknowledge that with these men in power in Congress the rights of the colored men are absolutely sacrificed, so far as those rights depend on Federal legislation? Still further, the rights of colored men in this country are assailed, if secured at all, by the three great constitutional amendments—the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth. To give these amendments full scope and effect, legislation by Congress is imperatively required, as you have so often and so eloquently demonstrated. But the Democratic party are on record in a most significant manner against any legislation on the subject.

THE DEMOCRACY AND CIVIL RIGHTS.

It was only in the month of February last that my colleague, Mr. Peters, offered a resolution in the House of Representatives, affirming the validity of the Constitutional amendments, and of such reasonable legislation of Congress as may be necessary to make them, in their letter and spirit, most effectual. This resolution, very mild and guarded, as you will see, was adopted by 124 yeas to 58 nays, only eight of the yeas were Democrats, and all the nays were Democrats. The resolution of Mr. Peters was followed a week later by one offered by Mr. Stevenson, of Ohio, as follows:

Resolved, That we recognize as valid and binding all existing laws passed by Congress for the enforcement of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments of the Constitution of the United States, and for the protection of citizens in their rights under the Constitution as amended.

On a vote upon this resolution there were 107 yeas to 65 nays. All the yeas were Republicans, and they are now unanimous in support of General Grant. All the nays were Democrats, who are now equally unanimous in the support of Mr. Greeley. It is idle to affirm, as some Democrats did, in a resolution offered by Mr. Brooks of New York, that "these amendments are valid parts of the Constitution," so long as the same men on the same day vote that the provisions of those amendments should not be enforced by Congressional legislation. Amendments are but to the colored men until Congress makes them effective and practical, nay, more, if the rights of the colored man are to be left to the legislation of Southern States without Congressional intervention, he would, under a Democratic administration, be deprived of the right of suffrage in less than two years, and he would be very lucky if he escaped some form of chattel slavery or peonage, and in proof of this danger I might quote volumes of wisdom and warning from the speeches of Charles Sumner. When, therefore, you point out to the colored man that their rights will be safe in the hands of the Democratic party, you delude and mislead them, I will not say wilfully, but none the less really. The small mass of Republicans, compared with the whole mass, who unite with yourself and Mr. Greeley in going over to the Democratic party cannot leaven

THAT LUMP OF POLITICAL UNSOUNDNESS,

even if you presume your own original principles in contact with the administration of Mr. Greeley; therefore, should he be elected, it would be in whole and in detail a Democratic administration, and you would be compelled to go with the current or repent and turn back when too late to mend the evil you had done. Your argument that Horace Greeley does not become a Democrat by receiving Democratic votes, illustrating it by the analogy of your own election to the Senate, is hardly pertinent, and the point is not what Mr. Greeley will become personally, but what will be the complexion of the great legislative branches of the Government with all its vast and controlling power. You know very well, Mr. Sumner, that if Mr. Greeley is elected President that Congress is handed over to the control of the party who have persistently denied the rights of the black man. What course you will pursue toward the colored man is of small consequence after you have transferred the power of the Government to his enemy. The colored men of this country are not as a class enlightened, but they have wonderful instincts, and when they read your letter they will know that in a great crisis in their fate you deserted them; that Charles Sumner, co-operating with Jefferson Davis, is not the same Charles Sumner they have hitherto idolized, any more than Horace Greeley, cheered to the echo in Tammany Hall, is the same Horace Greeley whom negroes have hitherto trusted. The black men of this country will never be ungrateful for what you have done for them in the past, nor in the bitterness of their hearts will they ever forget that, heated and blinded by personal hatred of one man, you turned your back on the millions for whom in years past you have stood as a shield and bulwark of defense.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
JAMES G. BLAINE.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY CONVENTION OF 1872, HELD AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 5-6, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, acting in the faith of appeals to its history, and announcing its position upon the questions before the country:

1. During the eleven years of its existence it has accepted with grand courage the solemn responsibilities of the time, has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equality before the law of all men, established universal suffrage, and has proved itself the only party powerful enough in moments of national peril to command the confidence of the people. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it cruelly punished no man for political offenses, and has warmly welcomed into full fellowship all who entered upon loyalty by observing the legitimate results of the war. Under its administration the country, while maintaining justly with other civilized powers the honor of the flag, has conducted its foreign affairs with distinguished ability; the Monroe doctrine has been firmly and successfully maintained; the Republic of Mexico, after long years of misrule, has been reorganized, and reconstructed, and is now permanently established as a republic; the independence and integrity of the Republic of Hayti, the pioneer republic of the continent, have been recognized by the United States; the rights of naturalized citizens, wherever they may be, have been protected, and the honor and power of the Nation have been wisely and firmly upheld. Despite the most extraordinary burdens, it has paid off many millions of the public debt, and has reduced the rate of interest upon the balance, and under the system of specie payments established by the Republican Congress, the public credit has been restored, and the bonds of the Government have been brought to par in the markets of the world. Notwithstanding the annual large reductions from the direct taxation, the public revenues have been kept in such abundance as to meet every just demand upon the Treasury, and to leave a large surplus, which has been honestly applied, during the past year, to the further reduction of the public debt, and the Republican Party is pledged to continue this policy until the whole debt is paid. Under the Republican Administration the currency, which was at the beginning of the period a fluctuating medium of exchange, of the most unsound and dangerous character, has been made a currency of the highest credit, and the best known to the world. Instead of a system of loans, which, in the hands of previous Administrations, created immense profits for the lenders, the Government has created a system of loans, by which the people have become the creditors of the Government, and the profits have been shared by the whole body of the people. Under the Republican Administration the credit of the Government has been greatly improved, and the annual interest charge reduced many millions of dollars. Under the Republican Administration the foreign commerce of the country has increased to proportions unprecedented in the history of the world, and the whole country has been blessed with unexampled prosperity. Despite the efforts of the Democracy to prevent it, the Republican Party has secured the passage and the faithful execution of the laws securing equal rights to citizens of the United States in the exercise of the elective franchise, and has carried the principle of universal suffrage and universal citizenship into every State and Territory of the Union. Under the Republican Administration the right of citizens to change their residence from one State to another has been practically asserted and established, and the power of the Government has been exerted to protect citizens of the United States, native and naturalized, in the enjoyment of this right when it was assailed. The Republican Party is the party of free speech, free press and free men, and has always been the unflinching friend of the right of peaceable assemblage and petition. It has been the party of progress and reform, constantly introducing and perfecting measures for the increase of the National prosperity, and for the general welfare. It has been the party of the people, constantly and successfully laboring for the passage of such laws as would secure the greatest good to the greatest number. It has been the party of humanity, constantly laboring for the relief of the oppressed and suffering, and constantly protesting against the disregard of human rights in other countries. It has been the party of morality, constantly laboring for the purification of the administration of the Government, and for the prevention of the corruption of the ballot-box, and has been the party of temperance, constantly laboring for the passage of such laws as would tend to the prevention of intemperance and the promotion of habits of sobriety. It has been the party of education, constantly laboring for the establishment of such institutions as would secure the education of the people, and has been the party of the workingmen, constantly laboring for the passage of such laws as would secure the rights of workingmen, and the dignity of labor; and the Republican Party will continue to recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a just share of the profits of capital and labor which creates capital. The largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual field for capital, and for labor which creates capital. The largest opportunities add a just share of the mutual profits of those two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption of specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves, as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of asserting constitutional laws for the purpose of resisting such laws by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.
